

Prom dress collecting dust in your closet?

The Children's Blood and Cancer Center of Central Texas of Dell Children's Medical Center is hosting their Second Annual Hungry Bunch Prom this May and needs your help!

They are currently seeking donations for gently used, clean prom/formal dresses of all sizes for girls ages 12 and older

The donations are so the girls can have a "shopping day" to pick out a free dress to wear to the prom (being on treatment for cancer or a chronic blood illness can be a huge financial stressor for families)

Cynthia Fitchpatrick who is a Child Life Specialist helping to coordinate the event says,

"One of the biggest reasons we are sponsoring a prom for these teens is very often these patients do not have the opportunity to go to their school proms because they are sick or may not feel comfortable attending if they are dealing with visible side effects of treatment (one of the biggest ones being hair loss). Any assistance you could provide to help us get more prom dresses to be able to provide more choices to the girls would be greatly appreciated. Thanks again for your interest!"

If you have any formal dresses you'd like to donate, please contact:

or Chelsea Hooten @ cthooten@seton.org

Donations will be accepted through Wednesday, April 29.

Shoes, accessories, etc. are welcome!
